Beverage Guide

As a general rule, allow one beverage per person per hour for a four-hour gathering. If the gathering is longer, the rate of consumption will decrease. If you serve a champagne toast, plan on one drink per person. Use the amounts listed below when serving a single beverage at your gathering. When you offer a combination of beverages, adjust the total amount to allow one beverage per person per hour.

| Beverage & Size..... | Number Of Servings..... | Amount For 50 |
|-------------------------------|------------------------------|---------------|
| Beer/1 Case..... | 24 twelve-ounce serving..... | 8 cases |
| Coffee/1 pound..... | 50 one-cup servings..... | 4 pounds |
| Punch/1 gallon..... | 32 four-ounce servings..... | 6 gallons |
| Soda/2-liter bottle..... | 11 six-ounce glasses..... | 18 bottles |
| Wine (or Champagne)/750 ml... | 6 four-ounce glasses.. | 34 bottles |

IMPORTED & DOMESTIC CHEESES

Cheeses are some of the oldest types of prepared foods in the world and we have searched far and wide to bring you mouth-watering choices to satisfy your palate. Many recipes are not complete until they contain a specialty cheese, and many diets include a special cheese, so whether you're looking for an import or a domestic cheese, our deli cheese case is the place. You will find some of the soft/fresh cheeses like Mascarpone, and Feta, soft-ripened cheeses like Brie and Camembert. Bleu and Gorgonzola are very firm and crumbly. We have semi-soft cheeses ranging from mild and buttery to pungent and earthy, Havarti, Monterey Jack, Muenster, and Limburger fit that category. Gouda and Edam are very light, buttery, and nutty with a smooth, creamy texture. You will find old time favorites like Cheddar, Colby, Provolone and Swiss plus many more. Just ask our deli manager to satisfy your taste buds with a sample of the large variety of cheeses available for you.
